RefWorks – How to import records from WorldCat with Japanese characters
(Pitt and UPMC affiliated users only)

1. Search at WorldCat [http://www.library.pitt.edu/articles/database_info/worldcat.html].
   You should display Japanese by clicking “日本語” at the bottom of the search page in order to export Japanese characters. You can limit materials in Japanese by click the box under search boxes.

2. Select records and click “Export.”
3. Select record type “Records 1-10” or “Marked records from the search.” Select “RefWorks” for “Export to,” and click “Export.”

4. RefWorks login page will open, and login by your Pitt user name and password. If you don’t have a RefWorks account yet, click “Sign up for an individual Account” to create one.
5. Import complete. You can see imported records by clicking “View last Imported Folder.”

6. Imported records. Click “View” to see complete records and click “Edit” to edit records.
7. This is a sample of complete record.
